

Radical Character for Representing God: Mile Markers of Growth

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	Character intimidated to share in most situations	recognizing own fear of saying what needs to be said	deciding not to be ruled by fear of people	starting to understand how God is honored with boldness	beginning to fear God more than people	courageous to share in most situations	no hesitation to be obedient at any time	Radical Boldness
recognizing the need for a balanced life	choosing not to default to busyness	knowing I don't always have to please people	fearfully saying "no" to some things	trusting God to lead in choosing what to do	starting to enjoy a more balanced lifestyle	primarily life is in balance	Radical Calm
realizing that I wallow in non-commitment frequently	starting to see that I avoid difficult situations	trying to build some commitment in my life	learning not to take the path of least resistance	starting to see perseverance show up in more areas of my life	experiencing some rewards of perseverance	honoring God with a persevering heart	Radical Endurance
realizing that I am a very selfish person	beginning to loosen my grip on what I have to give	starting to realize that God has provided so that I can give	starting to look for ways to give	beginning to see the pure joy of giving	beginning to develop a giving mindset	giving often & generously to bless God's kingdom	Radical Giving
restless with my own vision	recognizing God's vision is different than mine	open to following God's vision	seeing I need faith to follow God's vision	attempting to follow God's Vision	too fearful not to follow God's vision	obediently following God's vision	Radical Leadership
recognizing the impurity in my life	struggling to overcome impure habits	recognizing my need for accountability	looking for help and accountability	understanding the cost for purity	grounding myself in the Word with others	accountable to others & fleeing temptation	Radical Purity
realizing that I am very self absorbed	recognizing that I am clueless to other's needs	starting to see why serving is important to God	beginning to have a greater desire to serve others	picking up on the needs of others with more regularity	experiencing the God-given joy of serving others	locked into & meeting the needs of those around me	Radical Service
recognizing my discontentment & materialistic behavior	recognizing my need for a simpler lifestyle	struggling to let go of "security" things	beginning to see what I don't need	acting on eliminating the unnecessary	learning how to live a simpler lifestyle	experiencing contentment & freedom with less	Radical Simplicity
recognizing my need for self-awareness & awareness	seeking help from God and others	beginning to understand the consequence of unawareness	understanding better what's happening inside of me	increasingly aware of what's happening in my environment	good understanding on how I influence my environment	keenly aware of what is happening in & around me	Radical Understanding
discovering that I'm very impatient with God & others	seeing that my impatience frustrates me & others	trying to discern the root of my impatience	discovering my impatience is a lack of trust	trying to focus more on trusting than on waiting	finding I am more relaxed in waiting on God	experiencing peace as I wait on God	Radical Waiting